

Greenfaith: Sacred People, Sacred Earth Day of Action

What: A day of action for people of diverse faiths to rise to face the climate emergency. Click here for more details.

Who: Your Faith Community

Why: This planet faces a vital threat and opportunity for renewal. People of faith must speak out.

When: Thursday, March 11th, 2021

Where: Your home or place of worship in a Zoom event or socially-distanced location.

Possible Actions:

- Hold a faith/interfaith service focusing on our spiritual roots to care for creation
- Kneel in prayer for Earth's healing: on your doorstep, in a park
- Plant a tree: your yard, faith community property; or through a tree-planting organization
- Post a photo or video of your action on social media
- Make a Day of Action sign and post in your window or outside your faith community
- Ask your faith community to ring bells at noon: announce the will to act for climate justice
- Write a brief letter to the editor or lawmakers addressing your greatest climate concern

Next Steps:

Sign the 'Sacred People, Sacred Earth' Statement Here

Spread the Word: Share your actions with friends, family, neighbors. Publish in your faith community's bulletin or newsletter. Share on social media.

Share your Event Here

The Day of Action 10 Demands

 Energy: 100% Renewable, clean energy for all

 Finance: Global finance aligned with compassionate values

 Employment: Jobs and healthcare for all

 Self-Determination: Respect for Indigenous rights

 Hospitality: Welcome for migrants

 Restoration: No more climate pollution

 Biodiversity: End the planet's desecration

 Divestment: Eliminate immoral investment

 Reparation: Climate reparations from wealthy countries

 Community: Bold faith community leadership